Tigridia or Shell Flower

There are few flowers that can compare with the TIGRIDA for brilliancy and color. They are amongst the most outstanding bulbous plants and are grown much the same as the Gladiolus as to planting, care and treatment. The colors are orange and yellow marked with red, purple or maroon. The large flowers, triangular in shape, deeply cupped at the center, succeed anywhere and bloom all Summer. Each stalk produces several flowers and thus prolongs the display. Let us suggest that you get acquainted with the uniquely beautiful Tigridias and have something distinctly different.

Giant Amaryllis For Pot Culture

The truly gorgeous colorings and the giant size of the magnificent blooms and the free blooming habit of this Giant Amaryllis make it very much sought after and highly admired. Amaryllis are exceedingly easy to grow by following a few simple directions. The colors range from purest white, through various shades of pink, to the deepest scarlet, many of them with beautiful markings and mottled throats.

Plant each bulb in a 5 or 6 inch pot with the top well out of the soil; set the pots away in the cellar or in a dark closet and water sparingly until top growth has begun, then bring out to light and warmth to bloom. After flowering sink the pots to the brim in a sunny garden spot and leave them there until the middle of October; then take up the pots and lay them on their sides in a shady place to dry off and ripen, after which they are stored again in the cellar until about the middle of February or until new growth begins. Do not remove the old soil; flower them again just as they are.

The Great Ismene

Both form and coloring are unique. Usually blooms very quickly after the bulb is potted. The flowers are large in size; odd in form as our illustration shows and the flowers are white with green shadings. Each tall spike usually bears several blooms. This is a flower having a peculiar grandeur; easily appreciated but not so easily described.

THE MAJESTIC REGAL LILY

A Planting of FAIRY LILIES Will Delight You Year After Year.

Grow 8 or 10 inches high and bear magnificent large pink lilies in profusion. Not hardy but a delightful subject nevertheless in the border or the rock garden as well as in pots and boxes. We have a porch box of Fairy Lilies that hasn't been transplanted in ten years. In the fall after the foliage has died down it goes in the cellar. Comes out on the lawn the next spring and soon is a mass of gorgeous pink bloom. It is a planting that we prize at our home; you would, too, if you saw it bloom.
